In the active matrix display device, a thin film transistor is formed in each pixel and pixel electrodes are formed in the respective pixels. The pixel electrodes are electrically connected with the thin film transistors by a scanning line and a data line. With such a configuration, when a scanning signal is applied to a selected scanning line through the thin film transistor, the thin film transistor is turned on. A data signal is then applied to the pixel electrode of the pixel that is turned on through the thin film transistor. Accordingly, an electric field is formed between the pixel electrode and a counter electrode that is formed on a substrate on which the thin film transistors and the pixel electrodes are formed.
