This image Editor is the video screen recorder that enables users to record everything that is displayed on their PC. After that users can annotate, capture, edit, and play back the screen and audio of all applications. The application supports five way playback that allows users to see and play back applications from the beginning, middle or any part. All major features are supported as well as built-in web browsers and favorites. The application can also play the video and audio files supported by the format of your video or select from your most frequently used files. Advanced search options Drag and drop support: the user may drop files onto the screen to be recorded and the application will find it and add it to the index. The application supports all popular formats such as AVI, MOV, WMV, MP4, FLV and MKV, audio formats such as MP3, WMA, AAC, AC3, AAC, MPC, WAV, MP2, VQF and OGG, and as well as DVD, CD-ROM, Blu-ray and ISO image files. Task Bar recording: when the application is running, you may choose to record the screens and audio of the whole application and its task bar by recording from the taskbar. The taskbar can be colored (using the color chooser) in four colors (blue, green, purple, black), the Windows logo, and a texture. With the help of this feature, the application can recognize the taskbar and can choose the correct function from three different options to record the screen or audio from the taskbar. Timeline recording: the application can record all user interactions from each window. Users can add, edit or remove up to 5 elements as the timeline recording and can even apply filters to the recording at their discretion. It can be customized according to the user preferences. Autoplay: the application can automatically start itself when needed. And it can play the recorded content when the user starts the application. Color chooser: the application can provide color choices for users, and users may choose from the available color options. Preview: you can capture the image of the screen or audio with the help of the application. You can use the rotation right click menu to take a snapshot of the image. Import: you can import files from the clipboard to the application. Annotation: you can annotate the file as long as it is supported by the format, and you can also export the annotations to the clipboard for further use

Flash Movie Player is an easy to use Flash player that allows you to manage and play Flash files, view the properties of the SWF files, start and stop the video and adjust audio settings. General: When you first run this player, you will see a main window with a main menu and play/stop buttons. When you click the Play or Stop buttons, the player will start playing or pause, respectively. You can also select a specific frame in the movie from where it will start playing or pause, and even stop the movie at a specified position. You will have the option of setting the audio volume, switching from Audio to Video mode and adjusting screen size. The main menu includes an option that will switch between the default player that we have selected for you, another one that will tell you the plugin's version, and another one that will enable you to copy a text to clipboard. A list of the files that you have the program will show up in the bottom left of your screen. Documents: Clicking on the Documents menu will show the shortcuts and folders you have in your computer. You can also launch the "Documents" folder and click on a folder to display its contents. If you click the "Open" button, you will be able to open any file you want in your default "Documents" folder. If you click on the "Add Item" button, a new folder or shortcut will be added to the list of shortcuts. Settings: From the Settings menu you can set your default player (which one will be automatically used for movie files), set your "Documents" folder, click on an embedded font and change the appearance's colors and styles. You can also enable the calendar when you set the date and time. Other: Clicking on the "Help" button will open a window that explains how to use the player. There is also a "Help" menu with all the buttons that can be found in the main window.
